The Alameda County District Attorney's Office is recruiting for a Licensed Clinical Social Worker to work with our Trauma Recovery Center Team at the Alameda County Family Justice Center ("ACFJC"). Applicants for this position must be a Licensed Clinical Social Worker with trauma-informed care experience who conducts outreach, assessment, case management and psychotherapy services with clients and brings a trauma-informed, cultural humility lens to each aspect of these services.

TRC Clinicians must have training and expertise in the assessment and treatment of acute trauma and poly-victimization, along with co-occurring mental health and substance use disorders, including anxiety disorders, mood disorders and personality disorders.

Must have the flexibility to work with a wide variety of clients. For example recent victims of violent crimes, survivors of domestic violence, sexual assault, human trafficking, elder abuse, violent acts of crime, surviving families of homicide victims.

Work Location:

This assignment is with the Trauma Recovery Center (TRC) at the Alameda County Family Justice Center which is a Division of the Alameda County District Attorney's Office.

FAMILY JUSTICE CENTER

Founded in 2005, the ACFJC collaborates with over 45 law enforcement, government agencies, and nonprofit organizations to ensure safety and healing for victims of interpersonal violence through comprehensive, coordinated, culturally sensitive and accessible services, including:

- Victim and witness assistance
- Legal advocacy
- Domestic violence and sexual assault counseling
- Restraining order assistance.
- Safety planning
- Children's counseling
- Parenting support
- Shelter/housing assistance

- Benefits assistance and enrollment
- Safe at Home application assistance
- Self-sufficiency services, professional development, resume writing and interviewing skills
- Criminal justice information and assistance
- Clinical mental health services through the Trauma Recovery Center.

The California Victim Compensation Board administers the Trauma Recovery Center program under the authority of Government Code section 13963.1. To be designated a "Trauma Recovery Center" applicants must be able to provide all of the following resources, treatments, and recovery services to crime victims:

- Mental health treatment services
- Assertive community-based outreach and clinical case management
- Coordination of care among medical and mental health care providers, law enforcement agencies, victim service providers and other social service agencies
- Services to family members and loved ones of homicide victims
- A multidisciplinary staff of clinicians that includes licensed psychiatrists, psychologists and social workers. These clinicians can be either salaried or contract positions.

In 2016, The Alameda County Family Justice Center became the first non-hospital in California to receive the Trauma Recovery Center ("TRC") designation. That designation was renewed in 2018.

To meet the TRC's on-site mental health treatment services requirement, the District Attorney has partnered with community-based non-profits Jewish Family and Community Services ("JFCS") to implement a mental health treatment program at the Family Justice Center. The District Attorney is currently recruiting for a Social Worker III to be part of the TRC team.
