JOB DESCRIPTION

The Alameda County District Attorney's Office is recruiting an investigative forensic auditor to assist in the investigation and prosecution of criminal and civil cases in which financial records and analysis are relevant. The auditor (also known as a forensic accountant) will primarily be assembling, preserving, analyzing, forming opinions about and explaining financial records of individuals and businesses suspected of violating the law. More specifically, he or she will be:

- Analyzing financial records to determine if laws have been violated (e.g., embezzlements, investment fraud, insurance fraud, securities fraud, income tax fraud and income tax evasion, payroll tax fraud and payroll tax evasion, real estate fraud, wire fraud and money laundering).
- Analyzing financial records to determine where money has come from or where it has gone, in other words, the source and use of funds.
- Obtain evidence, take statements, produce reports, and testify to findings regarding resolution of fraud allegations. May coordinate fraud detection and prevention activities.
- Comparing financial records to determine discrepancies, potential violation of laws and defenses and investigative leads.
- Assisting attorneys and investigators in interviewing suspects and witnesses to obtain information regarding financial transactions and activities.
- Preparing audits, summary financial spreadsheets and detailed reports of recommendations.
- Providing expert testimony in court regarding audit findings and accounting procedures.
- Designating which records and books should be subpoenaed or obtained by search warrants.
- Assisting attorneys and investigators in drafting and executing search warrants and seizure of evidence and assets.
- Determining the financial ability of an individual or business to pay penalties and restitution.
- Assisting attorneys and investigators in the preparation of cases for prosecution and trial.
